

Intalytics Relocates into New Space to Accommodate Accelerating Growth

Date: September 20, 2010

Intalytics, a retail real estate consulting firm, announced today that it has relocated into larger quarters to accommodate its growing staff. While Intalytics will remain in its current building, it will move to the building's second level in order to accommodate the need to double the firm's current space.

"We stayed in our current space as long as we could, but literally ran out of room" said Bob Kennedy, CFO of Intalytics. "Our new space will comfortably house our existing employees including several recent key additions, and will provide us with the ability to accommodate our anticipated accelerating growth for the next 12 to 18 months". To ensure that the company can continue to meet its expanding space needs, Intalytics has also secured an option for incremental space. "With our expansion option, we should be able to accommodate up to 30 staff members", added Kennedy.

Effective today, the new Intalytics address is:

Intalytics
455 East Eisenhower Parkway
Suite 270
Ann Arbor, MI 48108
734-623-7710
